

(Milwaukee, WI)— Congresswoman Gwen Moore will be holding a Citizenship Workshop on Saturday, August 5, 2006 to provide current and potential citizenship applicants with a thorough understanding of the eligibility and application requirements for becoming a United States citizen, as well as the rights and responsibilities that come with U.S. citizenship.

The workshop will feature a panel discussion that will highlight the process and benefits of citizenship and civic participation, and attendees will have an opportunity to have a pro bono meeting with an immigration attorney. Organizations that serve the immigrant community in Milwaukee will also be on hand to provide additional information and resources.

Those interested in attending, either as a citizenship applicant or as an organization, should contact Congresswoman Moore's Milwaukee office at (414) 297-1140 or rsvp.moore@mail.house.gov.
